THE NEWS OF THE WEEK. A Daily Resume of Important Happenings.

June 30.

President Hadley, of Yale, announced at the annual dinner yesterday afternoon that John D. Rockefeller had given $2,000,000 to the institution. The announcement was received with applause.

The Special Committee of both houses to which has been referred the Swedish Government bill looking to a settlement with Norway elected Herr Lundberg, vice-president of the First Chamber, as chairman, and Herr Peterson, vice president of the Second Chamber, as deputy chairman.

The President yesterday made an address at the annual dinner of Harvard University in which he discussed the work of educational institutions and the duty of graduates. In connection with the latter he strongly inculcated the idea that the alumni should unhesitatingly strive to promote respect for and obedience to the law as well as the part of the rich as to the poor.

The crew of the Russian battleship Knyaz Potemkin, of the Black Sea fleet, mutinied at Odessa because of bad food and the officers of the ship are reported to have been murdered and thrown overboard. A dispatch received by a London news agency says all the shipping in the harbor was set on fire and that the mutinous crew fired a shell into the town, killing four Cossacks and wounding seventeen. The American Consul at Odessa has cabled to Washington that the situation is serious.

July 1.

At a meeting of the General Board of Education in New York yesterday it was announced that John D. Rockefeller had given $10,000,000 for higher educational purposes.

Charles Denby, diplomatic adviser to the Viceroy of North China, who is visiting his former home in Detroit, says that in his opinion no consequences are to be attached to the Chinese boycott of American trade.

Capt. Sigbee and the American squadron sent on the expedition to receive Paul Jones' body arrived at Cherbourg yesterday and landed amidst ceremonies of impressive character. The quays were lined with men with people to witness the arrival of the Americans.

Secretary Taft and his party left Washington at 5:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon on their journey to the Philippine Islands. The party will spend four days in San Francisco, which will be reached July 4. Three months are to be consumed in the entire journey to the Philippines and return.

Senator Taft spoke yesterday in defense of Senator Mitchell in the prosecution of the latter in the land fraud case at Portland. He said that the comparative poverty of the old statesman, after twenty-four years' service in the Senate, had induced him to come to his defense and was a fact persuasive of his innocence.

The French Council of Ministers were in session yesterday afternoon in the presence of the Franco-German negotiators, and a statement was issued to the effect that negotiations were proceeding satisfactorily toward an agreement. At Berlin it was stated, however, that there was not the German sanguine anticipation of an early settlement of the difficulties.

Secretary Taft yesterday announced the appointment of John F. Stevens of Chicago, as chief engineer of the Panama Canal Commission, to succeed John F. Wallace, resigned. Mr. Stevens will also be general manager of the Panama railroad, but will not be a member of the commission. W. A. Darling, of Chicago, has been tendered the appointment to succeed Mr. Stevens in the work of railway construction in the Philippine Islands.

John F. Wallace gave out a statement in New York last night in reply to Secretary Taft's official resignation of Wallace's resignation as chief engineer of the Panama Canal Commission. Mr. Wallace says the primary cause which led to his resignation "were underlying and fundamental," and he repeats the charge that his motive in leaving the work was a financial one. He refused to discuss his future plans last night prior to leaving New York for a vacation.

Not a shot was fired either ashore or afloat yesterday at Odessa, and the day, to the surprise of everybody, passed quietly. The mutinous crew of the battleship Knyaz Potemkin surrendered unconditionally to Vice Admiral Kruger's squadron, and at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon was slowly steaming away in the wake of the squadron. After the shots fired by the Knyaz Potemkin Thursday night, no further disturbances occurred. Attempts at mutiny at Lissa and Croustadi were promptly suppressed, and both places are reported to be quiet.

July 2.

M. Muraviev, Russian Ambassador at Rome, will be chief of the Russian delegation to the peace conference at Washington.

Motions were made in the Swedish Riksdag yesterday placing $25,000,000 at the disposal of the Government in the present crisis.

France has replied to Germany's last note on Morocco, and the response modifies some of the objections at raised against a conference. The general tenor is said to be favorable to the principle of a conference, and in diplomatic circles the controversy is regarded as practically closed.

The body of the late Secretary John Hay will be taken to Cleveland for burial. The funeral train will leave Newbury, N. H., this morning, and private services will be held in Lakeview Cemetery chapel, in Cleveland, Wednesday morning. President Roosevelt and the members of the Cabinet will attend.

Another mutiny is said to have broken out at Odessa. It is reported that the crew of the Knyaz Potemkin did not surrender, as agreed, and instead a crew of another battleship joined them. Representatives from the two ships are said to have demanded that the city capitulate or be bombarded. It is feared that other crews will join the mutineers.

Seventeen indictments against men prominently identified with the beef packing industry were returned by the Federal grand jury in Chicago yesterday. Among the defendants are the Armours and Linds & Swift, president of Swift & Co. Violations of the Sherman anti-trust law are the basis of the charges, it being alleged that various conspiracies in restraint of trade were entered into by the defendants.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED reach the diseased portion of the ear, by local applications, as they cannot. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, or when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be forever lost; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Prestonsburg.

We have just learned of a most serious case of mistaken identity, by which a sandy-haired man was mistaken for a ground-hog. Frank Keathly, of Laynesville, was digging after a ground-hog, when Henry Hale, who also was hunting, mistook his hand for a ground-hog, landed sixty-nine shot in his face, back and side, from a breech-loading shotgun. Dr. R. M. Miller removed the shot and dressed the wound, and the patient is doing nicely.

Miss Hattie Milton Jones came in on the 9:25 train last night, and with the Misses Pauline and Rebecca Cecil. A great many of her friends were waiting at the depot to receive her, as her friends are legion. She is a charming woman and an everlastingly talker and one can scarcely get in a word edge-ways when in her society. But the "beauty" about is, she knows something to talk about and is very entertaining.

Rev. J. H. Stambaugh, of Haines, former pastor of the Christian church here arrived on the 11:40 train today. Rev. Stambaugh and his wife have many friends here who are always delighted to see them.

"Look Pleasant."

What would be the effect upon civilization if everybody would keep constantly in mind that suggestion of the photographer, "Look pleasant?" The most difficult part of the photographer's work is to get the subject before the camera to rid himself of the cold, stiff, set expression of his face and to replace it by a genial, kindly look or a smile. He is not willing to reproduce the sullen and the change of expression will transform the photograph.

How the habit of looking pleasant would revolutionize our nature and civilization itself! If we could only get rid of the hard, cold, worried look habitual to many of us, not for the few seconds we stand before the camera, but for all our lives, how bright the world would grow.—O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

DOCTORS SAID HE WOULD NOT LIVE.

Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me I had no business to attend to I had better attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month as there was no cure for me. Ely's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it and after taking three bottles I began to feel better and continued to improve until I was entirely well." Sold by Louisville Drug Co.

"Don'ts" for Tobacco Growers.

Don't grow more than you can take care of. One acre of well-handled tobacco will bring you more money than two acres of "hogged tobacco."

Don't starve your tobacco; give it plenty to feed on and feed it on the right kind of food. The extra weight yielded will more than pay the difference.

Don't put all your fertilizer on broad cast before setting out your tobacco crop; save one-third of it to put on at the second hoeing, and cultivate it in. This will carry the crop to a finish of cutting time.

Don't hang your poorest tobacco in the peak of your shed. Put your best tobacco up high and hang the poorest on bottom tiers. The cure in the two of shed is safer and better.

Don't neglect the care when tobacco is in the shed. After growing a good crop there is no sense in letting it spoil by inattention to sheds.

Don't take down your tobacco until it is cured and ready to strip and in right order. Should you have a few fat stems keep them out and tie up in small hands by the tips, using a light dry leaf as a tie, and hang these hands over a lathe, butts hanging down. They will soon cure and be fit to take down at a later date.

Don't take down tobacco that is too moist or too dry; wait until it is just right.

Don't put water on your tobacco; see that your crop is in proper condition when taken down and keep it so. Water on tobacco causes nine-tenths of the trouble between buyer and grower. Most of the canker and mold damage are caused by water, and buyers have good cause to reject or dock the price on watered crops.

Don't take down tobacco that is dripping from frozen stalks. Let it drip out and dry off and wait until next damp, in order to avoid the damage and mold caused by drip.

Don't strip and pack into your bundles wet tobacco, rather hang up again to dry off and strip it next damp.

Don't strip the trash and weather-beaten leaf and put it in your bundles with the good tobacco. Keep it separate, and tie it up into hands and ball it while it is in condition to handle it will bring more than if allowed to lie around the sheds in piles to mold and rot.

Don't take too heavy hales; use 10x48 paper, and have box right size to get a hale of about 35 pounds.

Don't use cheap heavy paper; it only breaks and tobacco gets broken and dried out. Use the best Manila paper—125 pounds to the ream—40x48 1/2 is light and tough, and the string will not rot, and protects the tobacco and costs less. Heavy cheap paper, 200 pounds to ream, at 3 1/2 per pound, costs $7 for 450 sheets. Best Manila, 125 pounds to ream, at 5 1/2 cents per pound, costs $6.15 for 450 sheets.

Don't handle your tobacco as though it was worthless. Try to make even bundles, keeping the leaves as straight as possible and have the butts even. Make your bundles look as if they were packed, not thrown into the bundling box.

Don't pile your bundles in a shed where the snow can blow in on them and melt and damage the tobacco. Pile all your bundles on their sides, not over three tiers high. They won't warm up so quickly, and tobacco will mat together less, making it easier for the stork or sorter to shake out.

Don't neglect to clean your sheds during the summer, and air them out well. A coating of four inches of clean sand over the bottoms of your sheds will pay for itself.

Don't forget that a nice, clean orderly shed and well-handled tobacco make a good impression on a buyer.—Edward Eggert in Tobacco Leaf.

Catarrh of the Bowels Most Common in Summer

Mrs. George W. Taylor, of Eaton, Gibson Co., Tenn., says: "I had had chronic diarrhea for six years. I tried everything I could hear of and had consulted several physicians without avail. My husband bought me a bottle of Peruna and I began to improve at once. I can do anything I ever could, and eat anything without inconvenience; and when I say if it had not been for Peruna I would now be in my grave, I do not think I exaggerate."

Chronic diarrhea is nothing else than catarrh of the bowels. The remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in all locations if it be an internal remedy, operating through the system. Peruna is exactly such a remedy. It is an internal specific for catarrh.

Obituary.
"O that thou wouldst bid me in the grave, that thou wouldst keep me secret until thy wrath be past that thou wouldst appoint me a set time and remember me."
If a man die shall he live again? All the days of my appointed time will I wait till my change come? On the 21st night of June, 1905 in Lawrence county, Kentucky, near the mouth of Big Blaine a man died, and that man was uncle John H. Curdette, who was loved, honored and respected by all his neighbors. He was about 65 years old, born and raised in Lawrence county, Kentucky, on the Brushy fork of Blaine. He was a twin brother of David T. Curdette, of Paintsville.
Uncle John met death by an accident, taking as he thought a dose of Quinine which proved to be strychnine, and death came in a few moments. He had been married twice. His first wife died some years ago after having married August Skeens, widow of John Skeens and mother of Add Skeens, the Lawrence county Court Clerk. After his marriage to widow Skeens he moved from his home on Brushy fork to his wife's farm near the mouth of Horseford Branch where he lived a happy, peaceful life, until death came. He leaves Aunt Abbie and many children, brothers, friends, and neighbors all to mourn our loss which heaven's gain: If a man die will he live again? yes, such a man as uncle John was. He will live with angels where there is no strychnine to poison and no need of quinine to cure a cold, and where there will be no good-byes or parting handshakes, where there will be no coffins or funeral meetings. Uncle John has met angels and redeemed loved ones and the great Physician, the Master of all life. All of us that so loved him if we wish to meet him again must live as he lived, and honest, quiet, sober, christian life for happy is that man that is in such a case yes, happy is that man whose God is the Lord. Adam Harmon.

Flemingburg, Ky., July 4.—Notice has been served on the Hon. Paul Hefflin by J. D. Wyatt, who will contest the Democratic nomination of the party for Representative. Wyatt alleges that he is the true nominee of the party and asks the Democratic Committee to hear evidence in the matter and decide who is the proper man for the place.
The Ferguson Oil and Gas Company has its well on the Preston farm down to a depth of seven hundred feet and it is being drilled at the rate of sixty feet per day. Oil was found in the first sand but not in paying quantities.—Wayne News.
Thursday morning of last week, west-bound local freight train of which Chas. Norman, is engineer, ran into and wrecked an extra freight train at Burger, three miles west of Williamson. brakeman Sherman Waddle was killed. It is claimed that the crew of the extra failed to flag the local freight.
J. S. Walker, of the Walker Lumber Company, of Irad, Ohio, has closed a deal with the United Thacker Coal Company, of New York, whereby he becomes the possessor of 6,000 acres of timber land in Mingo county. The deal involves $50,000, and the tract is considered one of the finest boundaries on the Norfolk and Western road.
Mr. Walker will begin to operate this boundary just as soon as a modern saw mill logging equipment can be installed. The saw mill will have a daily capacity of 50,000 feet, and at this rate per day six years will be consumed in exhausting the boundary.
Lewis Clark, of Huntington, second engineer on the steamer Greyhound, which craft plies daily between Huntington and Portsmouth, was drowned while the boat was lying at the Portsmouth wharf. He and another man were at work tightening up some bolts on the wheel, Clark using a stick as a lever in a chain to draw the bolts closer together, to tighten the bolts more expeditiously, when the stick broke, precipitating Clark backward into the river. He must have struck his head on the wheel, and struck the bottom of the river and broke his neck, as he came to the surface only once and then sank from sight. The body was recovered ten or fifteen minutes afterward.

An Old Show With New Features.

Many of us have visited the Van Amburg Show in years past and recollect with pleasure the splendid performance this show always gave the public. It is one of the shows that gives all it advertises and its motto, "Please the people and they will please you," is the corner stone upon which the great success of the Van Amburg Show is built. Starting more than forty years ago with a small wagon show, to-day it travels all over the country in its own magnificent cars by special trains. The improvement on the old-time performance is just as great and every set given in its big tents is of a high order and strictly up to date. Elephants, camels and a large collection of trained animals and ponies are to be seen in the grand free street parade on the morning of the day of exhibition.
Van Amburg's Show will exhibit in Louisa, Ky., on Saturday, July 15.

Old books published by the American Book Company will be taken in exchange for new ones of the same grade if they have the backs on.
Frye's geographies and Lee's histories will be used in the Lawrence county schools for the fiscal year of 1906-6. These books are included in years ago, and the publishers naturally insist upon their use until that contract expires. All the other books adopted at that time are publishable by the American Book Company, which excelled all previous contracts and caused the new general law of the State to be put into effect.
Remember, you can not exchange a book of one grade for that of another. For instance, a first reader can not be exchanged for a second. It can only be applied toward the purchase of a new first reader.

The Louisa base ball club went to Guyandot, W. Va., and played on July 4th. The result is a sad and humiliating story. It is no wonder that most of the boys feel disgraced. The score stood 29 to 1. We could not having gone to Guyandot.

The Catlettsburg Press says:
Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Marcan entertained a few friends last Wednesday evening complimentary to Mrs. Kate Freese, of Louisa. Several games of cards were enjoyed, and late dainty refreshments were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Gurnell, George Gurnell, Chas. Silcott and Mrs.
Kate Freese.

Jan. Wellman, of Tabors creek, W.
Va., brought in the tag from the balloon sent up on the evening of July 4th by W. F. Shipman, the Louisa clothing. The tag called for a fine Stetson hat. A remarkable feat in connection with this is that the balloon sent up last year landed within 100 yards of the spot upon which this one fell. Mr. Wellman was out looking after a sick cow, and a child with him saw the balloon fall.

Rev. O. F. Williams, who has been sick for a week, is now improved and hopes to be able to fill his pulpit next Sunday morning, and if not, he thinks he will certainly be able to preach Sunday night. If the balloon Sunday morning this will be evidence of a revival. The minister will have a full attendance of the men as well as the ladies. A little extra effort is required during the heated term to get out to services, but Mr. Williams asks that they make this. He will appreciate your presence.

Louisa & Port Gay Bridge.

The Louisa pier and the Port Gay pier for the Louisa and Port Gay bridge will be finished this week.
T. H. Roberts & Co., the contractors, have pushed the work very rapidly.
The progress they have made is very gratifying to the public and to the subscribers. Unless some unforeseen trouble occurs in the building of the two piers on each side of the Point, the contractors will finish their work ahead of the time allotted to them.
As the work progresses the enthusiasm on the bridge matter increases.
The belief grows stronger and stronger that it will prove a good paying investment from the start, and that the dividends will increase from year to year. The results elsewhere on properly located bridges show this to be the experience.

With prospects of general development now so bright for all this section, no one can reasonably take any other than an optimistic view of this and all other enterprises around here. It does not require the powers of a prophet to foresee the possibilities of this bridge in connection with the great enterprise that is predicted for the Big Sandy Valley in another column of this issue. And we will add that Louisiana is properly located for various enterprises, and if we are wise and active enough to take advantage of the many opportunities open to us, we can have a busy, hustling city here within a few years. Those who are standing in the way of advancement by "kicking" on every proposition, using their "raisonne" of reason on all new enterprises, refusing to join any movement for greater progress, should be ignored by the business community and left behind in the march of progress.
Scrambling over the few dollars that come into the community in spite of the croakers is not the way to build up a prosperous place. All should unite in the effort to bring in more business. This may be done only by making this a producing community.
This condition will not come to us without united effort and the sacrifice of some time and money on the part of all.

The Glorious Fourth.

Louisa was honored by the presence of a very large crowd on the Fourth and all seemed to enjoy themselves. The weather was pleasant.
A full report of the committee is published. It will be noticed that complaint is made therein about the failure of some of our citizens to aid in these celebrations. The work falls upon a very few people and there are many who refuse to contribute anything. It is hoped that next year there will be no cause for complaint on this score. It is a matter in which everybody should lend a hand.
A larger crowd is not often seen in Louisa. It is the intention of the committee to begin preparations earlier next year and have a bigger time than ever.

Amid the cheers and shouts of the two thousand, more or less, who had assembled in Louisa on the Fourth, J. W. Yates and wife, ascended the greasy pole (which was one of the features of the day) and after several vigorous attempts the fellow laid his palm on the top and won the coveted prize, much to the delight of the bystanders. He was shaking down the fire in the locomotive when in some way the skinner bar caught the little finger of his left hand, cutting it nearly off.

BRIDGE

To Span the Ohio River at Ashland, Kentucky.

Formal announcement has been made of the selection of the Ashland-Ironton site for the Ohio river bridge which Huntington has been fighting for. The following clippings from Cincinnati papers tell of the matter fully:
Eugene Zimmerman, President of the C. H. & D., who returned yesterday from New York, announced that the new bridge over the Ohio river would be erected at Ironton, Ohio, and connect that city with Ashland, Ky.
The new structure will be erected by the Ashland and Ironton Bridge Company.
The bridge will have two railroad tracks, a wagon road and a footway.
The cost is expected to be fully $1, 500,000. Work on the new structure will begin at once, and it is expected to have it ready for operation by June of next year.
The new structure will connect the C. H. & D. and the Detroit, Ironton and Toledo highways with the Chesapeake and Ohio. There will be extensive freight yards built at Ironton.
—Enquirer.

President Zimmerman, of the C.
H. & D. railroad, announced that Ironton and Ashland will be the site of the great new railroad bridge over the Ohio river at that place to connect the C. & O. and the Detroit Southern, and C. H. & D. This is one of the most important moves made in many months, so far as Cincinnati, the Virginia coal fields and the great coal market of the Northwest are concerned.

Mr. Zimmerman and the financial interests which are back of him, have a straight railroad line from the lakes to the great coal fields of the Virginia. The purchase of the latter properties by the Hollins-Zimmerman syndicate, will be recalled as an event of quite recent occurrence.
How to get the coal in a "direct shoot to the lakes," is a question which has been chosen to erect a $1,500,000 bridge over the Ohio river and Ashland by a separate corporation, a structure which will also have facilities for foot and vehicle patronage.

The announcement of the location of the bridge was from Mr. Zimmerman, as he returned from New York with Mr. Russell Harding, who is preparing for a six weeks' stay in Europe. "We expect to begin work on the bridge without delay," said President Zimmerman.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

The opinion is expressed by many that this big enterprise is fraught with important meaning to the Big Sandy Valley. In fact, it is beyond question that the bridge will be of benefit to us, because it puts another railroad in touch with our coal fields. Even if the roads that cross the bridge never come any farther in this direction, the mineral resources of the Big Sandy Valley will thus have another outlet. But the belief of a number of people is that the building of this bridge means another railroad for the Big Sandy Valley. It is sincerely hoped, of course, that this opinion may prove to be correct. Too many facilities for the transportation of the vast resources of the Big Sandy Valley can not be provided. They will all be needed when development gets well under way.

"O Woman, Great Is Thy Faith."

These words uttered by the Savior of men, spoken to the faithful woman who came out of the coats of Tyre and Sidon and heard by His wondering disciples, formed the ground work, as it were, of a word picture drawn by Rev. F. F. Shannon and presented to a large audience in the Southern Methodist Church last Sunday morning. It was a word picture, pleasing in every detail—delicate and beautiful in figure and design, gratifying to the ear, and so vivid that the eye could see as well as the ear could hear the loving Master of men, the Impatient apostles and the woman appealing for the restoration of her stricken child.

Mr. Shannon began by speaking of masterpieces of art, especially of painting. He told how a picture would please the sight, even when viewed from a distance. But it would require, even as one did which he had lately seen, a close inspection to reveal the delicacy and correctness of detail and finish. This closer examination, and this only, would show to us the true beauty of the picture.
And there were masterpieces of the little whose true worth and intrinsic beauty could be known only by him who made a close study of the sacred record. And this fifteenth of Matthew is one of them. The speaker, who had read a few verses of the chapter, including the 28th, which contains the declaration which heads this necessarily brief notice of a magnificent sermon, then proceeded to elaborate the subject he had chosen; and for keenness of analysis, clearness of logic and beauty and breadth of conception we have seldom heard his equal. We have more than once heard the subject discussed by able and eloquent men, but it remained for our Louisaian to develop an understanding of his topic and to reveal to his hearers a beauty and a lesson hitherto unknown to us.

Mr. Shannon's sermon was a grand one, full of apt and faithful metaphors, punctuated with illustrative incident, and withal warmed with a religious feeling which made this discourse doubly acceptable to the devout listener. At night he preached the fine sermon to a very large congregation in the M. E. Church.

Marriage license was issued a few days ago for the marriage of Dr.

Egg race, Claude Wilson.
Hiccup race, Harry Burk.
Wheelbarrow race, Oscar Blankenship.
Greasy pole, William Yates Myers.
Eggs man, Harold O'Bryan.
Pretty girl, Mary Burton.
Pretty child, Virginia Ferguson.

In the pretty baby contest the vote was so nearly divided between four tee was unable to decide the winner, and therefore no decision was made.

The band furnished splendid music and the committee desires to thank them individually and as a whole.
All the expense for the brass band amounted to $17.75, which was paid to Prof. Ellis as expenses. The decorations, flags, wagons, ice and fire works, etc. were only $21.50, the prizes $18.00, leaving a small balance in the Treasury for next year.
Thanks are due G. W. Castle and H. H. Bates for their services. Rev. Bates' only charge was for his expense from Cincinnati, $5.00.

The committee hopes when July 11th, 1906, rolls around, more Louisa people will show an interest by decorating a wagon, buggy, or other vehicles and get in the parade. We hope the four or five thousand visitors, enjoyed themselves. Again thanking all who kindly assisted as we are,
Respectfully yours,
4th JULY COMMITTEE,
M. S. Burns, Ch'n.

Railroad News.

Washington, July 2.—It appears from what is heard here in Washington that there are several deals going on looking to the construction of new railroads which will materially effect Virginia and Kentucky. Of course, the one that just at this time is possessed of the most interest is the Tidewater road. Over a hundred miles of the West Virginia end of it has been completed and work has been begun on a hundred mile section of it in Virginia. The road will cross both the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Norfolk and Western, and will break up the control of the West Virginia coal fields in Pennsylvania interests. Besides it, H. Rogers, the Mortons and the Paynes and Whitneys are back of the Tidewater.

There is said to be a probability that this new Virginia, Missouri and Western project, which is said to have for its end the construction of a transcontinental road through Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and on to the Pacific is connected with the Tidewater enterprise.

The Louisa Flour Mills.

The Louisa Flour Mills have shut down and will probably not run any more until new wheat comes in, by which time it will doubtless be under new management. Mr. John G. Burns will not renew his lease. It is due to Mr. Burns to say that he has given entire satisfaction to his patrons during the time he has had charge of this mill. He has dealt fairly and honestly with all, and has given very prompt service, no one having to wait for flour in exchange for wheat.

Fannin and Becker.

The Republicans of Lawrence county held a convention Saturday and instructed for W. L. Andrews, of Ashland, for State Senator and R.
O. Becker, of Ashland, for Legislature. The district convention was held in Ashland on Monday and the two gentlemen above named were nominated. Mr. Andrews declined the honor and J. A. Fannin, of Elliott county, was nominated for Senator.

An election was held last Saturday to fill two vacancies on the Board of Education of the Louisa school district. Revs. H. B. Hewlett and L. M. Copley were chosen. The Board is now composed of these two gentlemen and P. A. Johnson and M. F. Conley.
